TECHNICAL CONSULTING SERVICES

In the fields of construction, infrastructure projects and the implementation of industrial plants important amounts of money are invested. The pricing pressure – due to an increased competition – leads to lower margins and a higher conflict potential. From the start of the project development and especially when conflicts have reached a certain level the parties involved in such projects are in need of professional assistance to find solutions.

Our clients are both employers and contractors in the construction industry. Our geographic focus lies mainly in Europe and the Middle Eastern countries, but we are active also beyond.

All sizes of projects in construction, infrastructure and implementation of industrial plants can be covered by service, with a focus on medium and big projects, including Joint Ventures and Private-Public-Partnership (PPP) Models.
